Update from the Attendance Improvement Office

Some of our students have received the automated AIO letters, as their yearly attendance meets certain criteria. Attached to this newsletter, is a breakdown of information that is gathered through the attendance system that generates these letters. Please take a moment to read this important document.

- Remember to contact the office anytime your student is absent. You may call the office or email Lori at LJWallac@egusd.net. Teachers are busy and may not remember to notify the office.
- Remember to complete all lines of the Student Sign In & Sign Out Log. Many parents are not completing the 'Reason' field. Those attendance entries will automatically be unexcused.
- Remember it is never too late to submit a doctor's note! If your student misses school for any type of medical/dental appointment, please request a note from the physician's office and turn it in ASAP.

ParentVUE is a great way to monitor your student's attendance. If you have not logged in to access your student's profile, you will need to stop by the office to receive a new activation code.

Special Education Students - Having learning or medical disability does not excuse you from compulsory attendance

Butter Braids are so delicious, we have decided to sell them again - just in time to enjoy over Spring Break!

Order dates: February 26 - March 12

Teacher Recognition- Congratulations to Lee Ramaley!
The EGUSD held a recognition ceremony on January 17, 2018 to honor employees for their years of service.

Out of Lee's 33 years of teaching, 25 has been for the EGUSD. He began his teaching career in Colorado, moved to San Diego and then landed in Elk Grove. Lee has taught at Jessie Baker School for 17 years. Be sure to congratulate him the next time you are on campus!
